Wish List Items for Rabbits:

Because rabbits can often become easily bored in their cages, providing them with toys that can be tossed around, chewed upon and dug into provides them with much needed physical and mental stimulation. The rule of thumb for purchasing toys for rabbits is that the plastic must be hard. If you can crush a plastic toy with your hand, a rabbit can crush it with its teeth and it is not a safe toy for the rabbit. Donated items can be brought to adoption events or by calling Friends of Unwanted Rabbits (F.U.R.) at 916-710-0105 or via email at teamfur@gmail.com to make arrangements or for more information about rabbit toys or how to make a donation. Donated items will also be provided to rabbits that are housed at the Sacramento County Animal Shelter.

- Apple branches (from real apple trees that are not treated with pesticides)
- Cash donations to purchase these items
- Cylinder, plastic, with bell In the middle (cats toys work fine)
- Gift certificates for www.bunnybytes.com and/or www.busybunny.com to purchase items
- Grass balls (can be purchased at PetSmart)
- Kinko's gift card to make copies of educational rabbit care information and brochures
- Mason jars with shower curtain rod to connect them (can be made with two lids and a hard shower curtain rod to connect them. Rabbits love to throw these)
- Quaker Oat Boxes
- Paper bags
- PetSmart gift card
- Pine cones
- Plastic cups (small, hard, baby play stacking cups)
- Rabbit toys that can purchased at www.bunnybytes.com and www.busybunny.com
- Staples or Office Max gift cards to purchase paper, print cartridges, staples, etc
- Timothy Tunnel (can be found at www.rabbitstop.com)
- Toilet paper rolls stuffed with Timothy Hay
- Toys (hard baby keys and toss toys with hard plastic)
- Untreated grass mats
- Wicker balls (untreated)
- Wicker baskets (untreated)
- Wire cat balls
- Wood chew toys (Can be purchased at PetSmart that are dyed with fruit dye)
- Wooden rabbit playhouse
- Wooden spoons
- Woven grass mats made like a tunnel or tent